Breast Cancer Awareness Campaign Continues

This year's National Breast Cancer Awareness Month campaign celebrates 19 years of educating women about breast cancer, especially the importance of detecting the disease in its earliest stages through screening mammography. The National Cancer Institute has recently reported a decline in the number of breast cancer deaths, most likely due to screening programs and improved treatment options.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer in women and falls second to lung cancer as a leading cause of cancer death. All women are vulnerable to the disease, especially as they grow older. Unfortunately, fears of discovering the disease, misinformation, inadequate health insurance, lack of transportation or childcare responsibilities, keep many women from taking advantage of regular mammography screenings.

To promote the importance of fighting this disease, the Stuttgart Wellness Center presents a Breast Cancer Awareness Program Oct. 23, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Patch Barracks building 2307. The event includes information on early detection, self-breast examination and a presentation by Dr. Gloria Browne from the Stuttgart Health Clinic. For more info call Michelle Saylor, Health Promotion Coordinator, at 430-4073/civ. 0711-680-4073.
